This book is full of ones from real life experience and mixed with a profound wisdom. It allows women to see themselves the way men see them so they can change the behaviors that may have hindered them in the past when it comes to dating. Every woman wants to know what men are thinking and since many men don't articulate what it is they are thinking this book does it for them. This book will create a lot of dialogue and give women the insight they need to finally break the code of men.
