This sequel to the national bestselling You'll Never Make Love in This Town Again tells the stories of Michelle, Lisa, Sophie, Jewel, Tatiana, and Jennifer.

Two of these tales, by women who have tried to make it in Hollywood without selling their bodies, expose how difficult it is for beautiful girls in this town to achieve their dreams.

Four others reveal the excitement, the addiction, and the destructiveness of the world of prostitution - whether the profession is a conscious career choice, or grows out of the desperation and hopelessness bred by drug addiction.
