Pathfinder McKay McDaniel is a super-hero even though he doesn't see himself as one. He just likes to help people. In fact, he has devoted his life to helping people travel through the hazardous forest of the evil Natrass. He has already successfully navigated this journey many times. A pathfinder seeks the best way through something difficult. When he has made his way safely through the difficulty, he leads people in similar situations to safety. As McKay tries to lead the husband and wife through the dangerous domain of the Natrass, his courage and patience are put to the test as they encounter hazard after hazard while trying to stay on the one safe path.
