Deborah has it all -- a loving husband who brings her pleasure, a healthy son, and a great job.

The only thing missing in her perfect world is spontaneity, a sense of adventure. Then a mysterious card arrives in the mail, promising excitement and romance. It seemed to offer everything that Deborah did not know she was missing. Will she throw it away, along with her chance of something new? Will she follow her secret admirer and face the risks of that decision? Or is there a third, surprising choice to be made? The answer will shock you!
