J2 Fanfic When Jared, an 18-year-old were who made headlines by not being able to shift, moved onto Jensen's floor, he knew there was going to be trouble. Not from Jared of course- the kid doesn't look like he could hurt a fly- but from other wannabe-Alpha weres who don't know when to leave well enough alone. What he didn't expect, though, was to find out just how much of a mess Jared was and what sort of baggage he carries from 18 years of mistreatment and abuse. So as Jensen's pack seems more than happy to point out, falling in love with the kid would just be a disaster waiting to happen.
