The perfect match? Chris Brodey could have any woman he looked at--and he was looking at Tiffany Dean! On a strictly casual basis, though. As far as he was concerned, she was just another gold digger.... Tiffany had no money, no job and no chance of getting either. Her plan to gate-crash the Brodeys' party for a magazine story was her last chance.... The deal: Chris could offer Tiffany his wealth and prestige--and in return she would be anything he wanted. But Tiffany discovered it was one thing to be a kept woman and quite another to be a kept woman in love....
