□□Blood, merely more blood. The blood-covered girl slaughters mankind. □From now on, we are the ‘enemy of the world’.□ The battleground is thick with smoke And ten thousand soldiers swing their spears here and there. All around, ears become deafened by the sole sound of metal. The Demon Lord smirks while hiding beyond the smoke, and a single girl becomes a puppet and dances on the battlefield. Making the soldiers, who will soon perish and disappear, the audience. Making the sound of metal, that will soon dissipate and vanish, the applause. Although people are appalled when they see the girl In an out of the way place, people gather and talk in whispers□□□. □Who is Laura De Farnese?□
