The Lost Light is under siege by a hostile army of Ammonites on the ocean floor of an unknown planet, forcing the crew to equip whatever sea gear they can improvise and engage before the limitly combining enemies can deal critical damage to the ship. On Cybertron, Iacon is buried in ash and Scoop begins citing prophecies to turn the survivors against Starscream - the apparent cause of the wave of death. Bumblebee and Soundwave's groups meanwhile continue hanging around the Necrotitan's feet waiting for something to do, and Orion's team continues forward to the center of the contracting Dead Universe.
